

TRAVEL+ LEISURE

Hotels Around the World Are Live Streaming Their Views to Make You Feel Like You're on Vacation (Video)

From the California coast to the Holy Land, here's how to have a digital staycation.

BY STACEY LEASCA | UPDATED MARCH 31, 2020

Now is the time to stay home. The messaging from health experts and political leaders is clear. For now, we must hunker down and stop the spread of the coronavirus. But, that doesn't mean we can't still experience a bit of wanderlust right from the couch.

Museums around the globe are offering virtual tours of their best exhibits, Broadway is streaming past shows, and the Metropolitan Opera is offering encore performances online. And now, there's one more place to find inspiration: Hotel live cams.

All over the globe, hotels are offering stunning views to people who need to escape even for just a few minutes. Here are five hotel live streams that will help you get away from it all right now.

[...]

Le Barthelemy Hotel & Spa: St. Barths

Le Barthelemy Hotel & Spa is thinking a little differently when it comes to streaming into your home. Rather than a video, the hotel recorded the sounds of the sea, an audio loop that was recorded at the Natures Reserve located in front of the hotel in Grand-Cul-de-Sac. The serene natural sounds are the perfect backdrop to a daily meditation or yoga practice while at home. Don't worry. Soon enough, you'll be back at it traveling the world and listening to these beautiful sounds in St. Barths in person.

Listen to the sounds of the Le Barthelemy Hotel & Spa at the bottom of this website.