

Best Travel Tale

Home » Where to stay » With St. Barts reopening, Le Barthelemy Hotel follows

With St. Barts reopening, Le Barthelemy Hotel follows

Posted on : 06/10/2021

Le Barthelemy Hotel & Spa, located in Grand Cul-de-Sac on the northeastern side of St. Barts, has resumed operations following the French government's decision to reopen St. Barts' borders to fully vaccinated U.S. travelers on June 9.

Although the island had previously been among the first in the Caribbean to welcome back visitors amid the pandemic in late June 2020, it abruptly closed again in February of this year.

Concurrent with its reopening, Le Barthelemy has debuted several new staff positions and amenities. These include the addition of a dedicated “rosé butler,” who is available to serve rosé wine and provide wine-related expertise on demand to guests throughout the property. The hotel also offers the services of a personal yoga guru and private car access.

Le Barthelemy has rolled out a variety of promotional offers, including a “Stay Much Longer” package in which guests receive 15% off accommodations, meals and spa treatments for stays spanning 10 nights or longer through Nov. 15.

The 46-room Le Barthelemy is a member of the Small Luxury Hotels of the World network.